Rationale

The demand for Nail Therapists is consistently on the rise in the beauty and cosmetology industry. It holds industry recognition as it directly aligns with employment opportunities. These skilled professionals offer manual skincare services. In the twenty-first century, the skills offered by Nail Therapists are in high demand within the beauty and cosmetology sector, reflecting the ever-increasing need for their expertise. There are no similar qualifications registered on the National Qualifications Framework.

This part qualification provides a well-structured framework for learners to develop essential competencies in Nail Therapy, a crucial skill within the Beauty and Cosmetology industry. Successfully completing this part qualification also opens doors to a wide range of job opportunities within the Beauty and Cosmetology sector. Additionally, qualified learners have the option to establish their own businesses, thereby making valuable contributions to their communities. Nail Therapists play a pivotal role in enhancing individuals' self-image, resulting in a more positive outlook and improved performance in both the job market and society.

The Beauty and Cosmetology sector stands to gain significantly from the availability of skilled Nail Therapists capable of meeting the diverse needs of their clientele. Competent Nail Therapists have the potential to establish a strong local presence, characterised by service excellence. This part qualification places a strong emphasis on nurturing a culture of professionalism and service excellence within the Beauty and Cosmetology industry.

The global beauty landscape is currently experiencing a transformative shift, reflecting the evolving awareness of beauty consumers' needs and desires. The Beauty and Cosmetology industries are in a phase of growth and development, driven by factors such as the rise of local beauty brands, the economic activity of the current generation, and the influence of digital technology and connectivity. Notably, the increasing impact of blogging and social media influencers is playing a significant role in shaping these industries.

The typical learners are the school leavers, unemployed persons, employed and self-employed persons. This part qualification was developed in consultation with the relevant Professional Body in the Beauty and Cosmetology industry to secure the competency requirements. Typical occupations in which the qualifying learner will operate include Nail Therapy, Cosmetic Advisory Services in retail outlets, Salon Management or Entrepreneurship. Learners qualifying this part-qualification may become Nail Therapists, provide cosmetic advice in retail outlets, become Salon Managers or Entrepreneurs.
